ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Grateful to Allah SWT, the most merciful for help, blessing and guidance, which gives me the patience to accomplish this task and my peace of blessings, be upon the seal of the prophet Mohammed. I am very grateful to my supervisors Prof. Dato' Dr. Muhamad Muda and Dr. Amir Shahrudin for the valuable assistance, advices, endless support and encouragement which have motivated me in conducting this research. Many thanks to all staff members of the Faculty of Economics and Muamalat and to all staff members of the Centre for Graduate Studies at Universiti Sains Islam Malaysia. I would like to express the appreciation to everybody who has helped and supported me during my PhD years. Furthermore, I would like to express my special thanks to the Malaysian people for their hospitality and help throughout my stay here. I wish to express my special appreciation to my beloved mother, brothers, sisters, relatives and to all my friends and colleagues in Libya. Furthermore, I would like to express my gratitude to my wife for her support and patience and to my children, Suha, Mohamed, Maryam and Sarah. Last but certainly not least, I would also like to acknowledge the financial support provided by the Zawia University through the Libyan Higher Education Ministry, which awarded me a scholarship and supported me throughout my period of study at the Universiti Sains Islam Malaysia.

Thanks for all
